VOL. LIX: No. 44. REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1919 ESTABLISHED 1859

JOS. H. NASH SUCCUMBED IN THIS CITY THURSDAY MORNING

Had Served as County Clerk For Twelve Years.

PROMINENT IN LOCAL AFFAIRS

Was Urged to Make Race for Secretary of State.

After baffling with death for several days Jos. H. Nash closed his weary eyes peacefully and gave up the tremendous struggle at 5:45 o'clock on Thursday morning at his home in Wellesley Park. All the members of his family were present soothing his brow as he passed away. For several days his condition was critical, but his friends had hope that he would recover. Despite the best medical assistance that could be obtained he slowly sank. The end was painless.

The news of his death was a shock to his friends throughout the county. Mr. Nash was popular with all classes. It is sad to contemplate that he has gone, that one just in manhood's prime should be called with every thing in life to live for, position, honor and youth. But there is an all wise God who knows all things best.

Mr. Nash was a man of strong friendships and strong hatreds. To his friends he drew to his heart, to his enemies he was merciless. He was fearless in fighting wrongs and was brave in espousing the cause of justice. Thousands will mourn Jos. H Nash throughout the county today.

His memory will be cherished.

There was one other county clerk to die in office since the organization of the county in 1856. He was John E. Tait who held the office in the early seventies. He had only held the position for a short time.

Joseph Henry Nash was born in San Rafael September 17, 1877, and at the time of his death was 41 years of age. In 1880, when he was only three years old, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Nash, came to San Mateo county, his father teaching for several years thereafter at the Laguna school near Byrnes' store. He received his early schooling at Halfmoon Bay, then went to the old Napa college, where he completed a business course, and later attended St. Mary's College. After finishing his education, he was employed for several years by Levy Brothers at Halfmoon Bay and San Mateo, and for a time was engaged in the grocery business with his brothers in San Mateo.

In 1906 he was first elected county clerk and continued to hold that office up to the time of his death. He was always fearless and conscientious in the performance of his duties and several times efforts were made by his political opponents to defeat him for re-election, but he had the confidence of the people and was always returned to office by practically unanimous consent. Last year he was given strenuous opposition, but the people of the county once more gave him their stamp of approval and he was returned to office by a vote of three to one. He was elected to the office four times and was just beginning his fourth term.

In 1911 he married Miss Lizzie Meta Wienke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wienke of Moss Beach, and no couple could have been more congenial or more devoted.

He was first taken ill about the first of the year with bronchial pneumonia and apparently was recovering fro mthe effects of this disease when pleurisy developed. About a week ago his heart began to weaken as a result of the severe strain and it was this complication which finally resulted in his death.

On Sunday, Dr. Peter H. Luttrell, a heart specialist from San Francisco and Dr. Harry F. Warren were called into consultation by Dr. G. W. Sovenman ,the attending physician, and Dr. Luttrell expressed the opinion that Nash could not live more than twelve hours. But even then, hope into consultation by Dr. G. W. Sevenman continued his fight to save the patient's life. Wednesday night another consultation was held and the physicians announced that his condition was slightly improved, but they realized at that time that his death might occur at any moment.

Joseph Nash is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Meta Nash; his mother, Mrs. J. C. Nash: two brothers Clement J. and Frank J. Nash, and one sister, Mrs. A. P. Stevenson.

His wife, mother, sister and brother, Clement, remained at his bedside almost constantly, and several days ago Frank Nash was sent word to come home immediately from Arizona, where he had gone on business. Despite the fact that he was just recovering from an attack of influenza which he suffered after his arrival in Arizona, Frank Nash hurried home and arrived before his brother passed away.

The funeral will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning from his late residence in Wellesley Park, thence to St. Matthew's Catholic church in San Mateo, where a requiem high mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock. The remains will be buried beside those of his father in St. John's cemetery. The funeral arrangements are in charge of George W. Sneider & Co.

The following old-time friends will act as pallbearers:

John D. Bromfield, John Burke, Myles Sharkey, Doctor J. C. McGovern, George W. Hall and D. P. Flynn.

Joseph H. Nash was a member of San Mateo lodge of Elks, the Knights of Columbus, San Mateo Parlor of Native Sons, the Fraternal Order of Eagles and other societies.

Allan Strong passed away at his parents' home on Phelps streeet on Wednesday after an illness of six weeks. He was aged ten years. Young Strang was a bright boy. His verses on the war were published in these columns some time since. He was popular with his playmates and beloved by his teachers. Mr. and Mrs. Strang haye the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

HUNTING SEASON CLOSED IN THIS COUNTY YESTERDAY

Yesterday was the last day in which any hunting could be done in the county. The season is closed for hunting ducks, quail and taking red abalones. There is no game that may be hunted in the county until next July. The close season for red abalones is to continue for one montn The following persons were sentenced in the county during January for violations of the fish and game laws: H. Hernan, $10; G. Corso, $15; H. Harford, $15; S. Fraina, $25; George Elliott, 30 days in the county jail; S. Bragini, $25; A. Gandolfo, $25; S. Soracco, $25. A number of the offenders were arrested for killing small birds, principally song birds. A delicious dish is prepared from the birds and is known by the Italians as "Polenta."

CHARLES A HICKS SEEKS A DIVORCE

Plaintiff asks that the custody of the minor be awarded to the mother and he agrees to pay the sum of $20 a month for the child's support.

HEART TROUBLE CALLS CHARLES SAHLBERG

Charles Sahlberg died suddenly Wednesday afternoon at the Redwood City Hotel. He was seated in a chair in the hotel breathing heavily. Dr. Ross was called but before he arrived Sahlberg had passed away. Dr. Brooke will hold an inquest today It is believed heart trouble was the cause of death. Mr. Sahlberg was an old resident of this city and was well-known here.

Sahlberg was formerly employed at the Frank Tanning company, but retired several years ago and has been making his home at the Redwood City Hotel since. He was a native of Sweden and was about 70 years of age. He is susvived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Locker of this city and Mrs. P. Torres of San Francisco. Another daughter ,Mrs. Edward Lawlor, died at Menlo Park about two years ago. S. A. Sahlberg of 311 Ceder street, this city, is a brother of the deceased.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the James Crowe Undertaking Parlors, interment was in Union cemetery.

Mr. Schaberg appraised the vast holdings during the time the public administrator of San Francisco was the guardian of the person and estate of Loren Coburn. In reappraising the property Mr. Schaberg's work will be somewhat easier and less difficult. The value of the estate is placed at nearly a million. ANNUAL REPORT OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of Redwood City and the affiliated San Mateo County Savings Bank, L. P. Behrens, manager, reported 1918 as a most satisfactory year. Regular dividends had been paid to both depositors and stockholders, a goodly sum carried to surplus fund.

After reading the several reports, which were adopted, the old board of directors were again re-elected as follows:

Geo. C. Ross, Chas. Holbrook ,A. D. Walsh, Ettore Avenali, J. L. Ross, P. P. Chamberlain and L. P. Behrens.

The directors after convening, elected the following officers for the First National Bank:

J. L. Ross, President.
P. P. Chamberlain, Vice-president.
L. P. Behrens, Cashier and manager.
F. K. Towne, Asst. Cashier.

The following officers were elected for the San Mateo County Savings Bank:

L. P. Behrens, President.
A. D. Walsh, Vice-president.
F. K. Towne, Cashier.
E. R. Whitehead, Asst. Cashier.

Both banks have made a steady and uniform growth and they enter their twenty-eighth year under the same management and with prospects of another good year.

GRAND JURY GIVES OFFICIALS CLEAN BILL

The grand jury made its report on Monday last and was discharged by Judge Buck. The report was very brief and to the point. The report of the expert showed the finances of the county to be in fine condition.

The report of the jury is as follows:

To the Honorable George H. Buck, Judge of the superior court of San Mateo county, Redwood City, Cal.

In compliance with your charges to this grand jury at the time we were impanelled, we have taken up and investigated the various matters here submitted.

Our expert accountant, Eric Wold, has been very conscientious and has given thorough satisfaction and has returned a report very much above the average. And we recommend him to future grand juries.

We visited the county jail and found everything in excellent condition. There were very few inmates as, owing to the enforcement of the federal liquor law, few arrests have been necessary.

We made two visits to the detention home and at the second found things in a clean and sanitary condition.

As this home is only temporary, we recommend that it be discontinued as soon as possible.

We hereby make the following recommendations:

That the law requiring that all bills presented the county be itemized, be rigidly enforced and that the future grand juries investigate this to the end that this be accomplished.

That Redwood City pay the county the jail expenses of local cases.

That although there has been this last year a decrease in telephone bills, yet the county offices throughout the county should limit their long-distance calls to official business only.

We visited the county farm and found everything clean and the inmates seemingly contented under the efficient management of Mr. and Mrs. Eubanks, but—

We, the present grand jury of San Mateo county ,after a most thorough and careful investigation, do believe and most strongly recommend that the county farm and hospital should be maintained at its present location.

We also recommend immediately stopping the sinking of any more wells, as there is no tangible indication of water, and that immediate steps be taken towards installing a water supply which is possible by connecting with the Spring Valley Water company's main and which can be done at a reasonable cost, as it is probable that sufficient pipe can be purchased from Camp Fremont. The sewer system has been looked into and we have decided that it is not of immediate necessity but would undoubtedly have to be attended to in the future.

We also recommend hat at the same time electric current be brought in for lighting and for power.

We also recommend that, from time to time as needed additional buildings of a permanent character should be contsructed as, by doing this, there will be eventually a group of modern buildings suitable for the purposes of the county farm and hospital.

We recommend that the first building erected be a modern hospital.

We also strongly urge that the foregoing recommendations be carried out through a special tax as one bond election, alone, would amount to almost half of the initial expenditures.

The grand jury has arrived at these conclusions after long and due deliberation and are satisfied that the recommendations made are for the best interests of the residents of the county.

We recommend that the trustees of the Redwood City Sequoia high school furnish transportation to and from school for all pupils living outside the limits prescribed by law.

That all pupils of the high eighth grade should be informed on the last day of school as to their standing with regard to promotion.

That the law be so changed that the secretary of the grand jury have a special compensation per diem.

We also recommend that a vote of thanks be given to Foreman Fred Lorton and to Secretary Anne M. Godfrey for their conscientious attention tot he business at hand during our session.

Attached hereto you will please find reports of finance committee, indigent committee, public morals committee, salary committee, and a special committee, and the report of the expert.

H. C. TUCHSEN APPOINTED APPRAISER IN TAYLOR ESTATE

Judge Buck on Wednesday appointed H. C. Tuchsen appraiser of the estate of Edgar D. Taylor, a minor.

SERGEANT KREIG WRITES FROM FAR OFF FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gould have received the following letter from Sergeant Kreig of France:

I suppose the people are all jubilant about signing the armistice, it surely is a great thing for our boys as we don't want to spend the winter in the trenches. The prisoners are flocking in here now and they teli some very sad stories of how they were mutiliated by the Huns. I dont know when I will be able to come home ,but I sure hope it will be soon, as there is no place like good old America and California. The boys are all anxious to get home, myself included, as I don't think much of France and am pretty tired of it. I guess I will be quite changed when I get back, but I know I will come back a better boy than when I went.

It sure is some experience to go through the horrors of war. I was in the Chauteau Thierry drive, where I was wounded and lost my battalion fro mthe hospital. I went up to the Toul Sector. I saw quite a bit of fighting, but came out without a scratch, from there I was put in the Argonne Sector, where there was bitter fighting, and was there up to the time of the signing of the armistice. I have lots of stories to tell you all when I get home. I am thankful to the Almighty that I am alive, but I know it is due to the ones who have prayed for me constantly.

Your loving son,
HARRY.

WEDNESDAY EVENING DANCES WILL BE CONTINUED

The Wednesday evening dances in the Forester's hall will be continued. The attendance last Wednesday evening was an improvement over the preceding Wednesday. The free dances at Camp Fremont on the same night have been attracting large crowds, and as there will be no more dances at Fremont on that night, the men of the Camp will again attend the Wednesday evening dances in Redwood City.

Hereafter dancing will commence at 8 o'clock and close at 12 o'clock and at 11:30 busses will leave for the Base Hospital at Fremont.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

The 62nd artillery Coast Artillery Corps of California is expected to leave France today to sail for home. The corps is composed principally of California boys many of whom reside on the peninsula. Among the boys from this county is Roderick Heydenfeldt, young son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Heydenfeldt of Atherton.

Earl Eikerenkotter writes to relatives here from Cheyenne, Wyoming where he is the physical and social director of the Y. M. C. A. at Fort Russell.

H. L. Williams, the local butcher, is to branch out. He is going to open a wholesale and retail market at 264 and 268 Sixth street next week. The building is now being fitted up for that purpose. Mr. Williams is to continue furnishing the army with meat. He supplies a large portion of the supply to Camp Fremont and will now do business with a government at the Presidio. The local market will be under the management of H. L. Williams Jr. He intends to do a cash and carry business. Mr. Williams is offering some choice bargains today.

T. O. HEYDENFELDT WRITES FROM FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Heydenfeldt have received the following letter from their son, Roderick, now in France:

St. Laurent des Combes, Department of Gironde, November 15, 1918.

—Dear Dad: Have not received a letter from you for some time but the papers arrive regularly.

Never appreciated our "Home Town Paper" so much as I do over here. Thank Denny for me and express to him how grateful I am to receive it.

Can always recognize my package of papers from others by the blue label. You sure have some system.

Well, the war is over and my stay in France is drawing to a close.

Only one regret I have, is that I will not be able to see Paris.

We cannot obtain passes for there, not even the officers. As you know I am located in a little town of about 500 inhabitants, St. Laurent des Combes, in the Department of Gironde, about 300 miles south of Paris and five or six miles east of Libourne.

Have been in Libourne several times.

Bordeaux is about 20 or 25 miles northwest. Cannot obtain a pass for there either.

We are going to make a move soon, to where I do not know. Address letters as before. Am looking forward to the day when I will be home. If you hear of any good openings or opportunities, remember I will be home in a few months, which period will pass very quickly.

To all inquiring friends, wish them for me a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

With the best of seasonal greetings to one and all, I am as ever,

Your affectionate Son,
ROD.

FAITHFUL COUNTY CLERK TENDERLY LAID TO REST

In the death of Jos. H. Nash San Mateo county has suffered a distinct loss. He was efficient, able, capable and one of the very best clerks the county has ever had. He was known and honored throughout the peninsula for his honesty of purpose, his uprighteousness of character and for his fearlessness at all times in the discharge of his duty. Mr. Nash gained a proud position in the state through his own efforts, his own energy and progressiveness. He was a self-made man in every sense of the word. By his constant labor, diligence and application to duty he made forward strides winning the confidence of the people. He had just finished his twelfth year as county clerk and was entering upon his fourth term of office when the Death Angel called. He was prepared for the summons, going forward to the great beyond fully confident of receiving the reward in the realms beyond the skies, of a well-spent life.

Greater honors awaited Mr. Nash had he lived. He was known through out the state, and everywhere his friends were urging him to aspire for a state office. It is just possible that he would have been the next secretary of state. His friends were constantly urging him to make the campaign. He loved San Mateo county ,and prefered to remain here among those he loved dearly. Mr. Nash was a good friend, and efficient official, a genial companion, a christian whose noble deeds will not be forgotten. He will live long in the memory of men, his many acts of kindness will bear fruit in the numerous prayers that will be offered to Him on high for the peaceful repose of his soul. Hundreds mourn him today. He will be cherished in memory for years to come. His life was useful. May his rest be peaceful.

OUR OPPORTUNITY IN THE ORIENT LOOKS VERY BRIGHT

G. Charles Hodges, son of Architect Hodges of Palo Alto, left his native town last week for the East after six months travel in China, Japan, Siberia and Manchuria, where he has been engaged in studying Oriental trade. He gives a very interesting account of his observations and clearly defines that the "United States stands higher in the estimation of China than any other country and would very much like to have our assistance in their further development. Japan is bound to be a strong competitor.

The Chinese have nothing to learn in the way of handling business, but far behind in a political way, but she is willing to be taught, as America has gained a high place of respect with the Chinese that cannot be taken away. Opportunities for Americans are unlimited and there is great need for teachers and others to assist in educational work.

Mr. Hodges was called to the University of New York to lecture on "Far Eastern Trade" and has been appointed assistant director of the Far Eastern Bureau, 13 Astor Place, New York City and also Special Representative of the U. S. Shipping Board on Oriental Affairs. The duties of which take him to Washington every week.

Mr. Hodges, although a very young man, has always been a deep student and was "Poly" leader in many a debate with our high school boys. Taking his B. A. and M. A. in four and a half years at Stanford, he was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa society of America.

FROM OUR BOYS IN GERMANY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Greer of Palo Alto have received the following letter from their son John who has been with the U. S. Expeditionary forces in France for nearly two years:

Germany, December 25, 1918—My Dear Mother and Father: Christmas day, the one great day of the year, that day that we all long to be with those so near and dear, when home ties seem the strongest, and people travel the world over just to participate in that good old gathering and partake of that good old dinner that none other than mother can prepare to fit this great occasion.

I heard Mass and received Communion this morning and the one favor I asked: God grant that I not be absent from the family circle when this great day again appears on the calendar.

Yet we all have much to be thankful for, just one year ago tonight we landed at the port of Liverpool, and I may say that our prospects were not of the brightest. The exact conditions and duration of this great strife for democracy, we knew nothing of, other than the wearied tales of our future life in the trenches told by an English soldier on leave or perhaps a convelescent Canadian or Scott who had put two or three years in hell as they call it. It was not the sort of Christmas cheer we were used to, believe me all were not filled with joy. At any rate I realized the day was not far off when I personally would be going through these thrilling experiences of which I had heard so much, and made up my mind the sooner the better satisfied I would be. My wish was surely answered for the tenth day of January saw me a member of the old fighting First going into action, the first time the Americans had taken over a sector as a unit unassisted by any other allied force. And here we are today on the victorious army of occupation in the land of the enemy, seeing that those rules of righteousness for which we paid so dearly are being carried out by a people who four years ago deemed themselves dictators of the world and used every means available unknown to the civilized world to gain their ends. So although far from home and family we spend this day with no small amount of joy.

During the past week I have received something like two dozen letters, the majority from home, including a bank draft from Dad and I am thankful for all in a manner that I am not able to express in words.

From all dope at present the day is near at hand when we are to start our homeward and glorious jaunt. In fact, it is the one topic and about the only a soldier discusses today. Now it is all we have to live for and believe me it sure is worth while.

I promise to write often from now on or in fact until on the move again when it is an impossible impossibility. At any rate never worry for I'll sure be there when the boys come marching home.

Enclosed you will find an extract of the citation I received in my last trip over the top. The original I am saving so in case this letter by some mischance should be astray it will not be lost.

Will write later of my experiences of the past two months.

Hoping you receive this letter as it leaves me in the best of health and spirits, as ever,

Your devoted son,

JOHN.

MERVYN RAPLEY WRITES HOME TO HIS PARENTS

Mervyn Rapley, who during the war, was with the First Northern Bombing Group, has written to his parents from Hampton Roads, Virginia, his letter in part follows:

The last letter I wrote you was over in France when I was at Ingelvert, and I have had quite a good many adventures to tell about since then. After the allies made the big drive on Flanders front, we all left the old air station at Ingelvert, and too kover an airdome that the Germans were driven out of. It was located between Bruge and Ghent. This airdome used to be the largest night bombing station they had, there were thirty-five hangars and seventy-two gatlers, they burned all the hangars down and flew the planes away before they left. When we got there, the lines were about eight miles from us, they were driving towards Ghent, the big shells were landing around us and the boche would come over all through the night, the vibration from the big guns shook all the buildings and the rumbling from the guns was surc loud. The boche came over a couple of times during the day. After the Germans were driven out of Ghent, things were kind of quiet for about three days. We could just hear the rumbling of the guns, then the armistice was accepted and we had orders to stop our work; we were given a liberty, and went sight-seeing in the city of Ghent. We were the first aviation sailors they had ever seen, and when they found out we were Americans, they almost worshiped us, they were so glad to see us. Ghent is a very pretty city, it is more like our cities than any other city I have seen over in Europe. Well the bugle is just blowing for chow, so I will have to bring this letter to a close. I would like to have told you more about Belgium and "No Man's Land," but will tell you all when I get home.

He enlisted in the navy in September, 1917 and was on active service in France for a year. For seven months he was stationed at Dunkirk which was the nearest sea-port to the firing line. The bombardment from the sea, land and air were so frequent that they were taken, as a matter of course, scarcely a house or wall in the town remains, without its record of the enemy's continual efforts to destroy Dunkirk.

On October 21, at Langenboom the Belgians took the famous long-range gun which for years has bombarded Dunkirk.

NOW THAT YOU CAN BUILD YOUR NEW HOME TAKE TIME TO PLAN IT CAREFULLY

How many times have we heard, while visiting the newly built homes of friends:

"I wish I had thought to put a light here and another one there. And, just think, I entirely forgot base plugs in the dining room and laundry."

The cheapest time to wire your house is when it is being built.

A house is not properly planned these days unless an electrical contractor, dealer or engineer has been consulted.

Many new and important changes in lighting and wiring principles make the ELECTRICAL man the person upon whom your future comfort depends.

Ask your architect to go over the plans with a competent electrical contractor or engineer. Do not accept them until this has been done.

CALIFORNIA AND CALIFORNIANS

BY GENERAL JOHN F. SHEEHAN

Alvarado, the California Napoleon

Juan Bautista Alvarado—1836-42.—He was the youngest Governor California ever had under any regime for when he assumed office Alvarado was but twenty-seven years old, having been born in Monterey February 14, 1809. His father was Jose Francisco Alvarado, and his mother was Josephine Vallejo, born in California in 1793, the second daughter of Ignecio Vallejo. Consequently Alvarado was a nephew of General Mariano Vallejo, afterwards very prominent in the state, and who was but one year older than the young Governor. Alvarado's father died when the son was but an infant, and after the lapse of some years the widow married Jose Ramon Estrada. Young Alvarado attended school in Monterey in the same class with his uncle Mariano Vallejo. In 1827, when but eighteen years of age, he was chosen Secretary of the Territorial Deputation or Legislature, sitting at Monterey, which position he resigned in 1834. Also served as accountant and treasurer in the Custom House at Monterey; and in 1835 was elected a member of the Legislature. The troubles with Victoria, Chico and Gutierrez kept brewing, and finally resulted in a declaration of independence and a separation from Mexico and the establishment of an independent government for California. Of the movement, Alvarado, though very young, was clearly the brains and the leader and was by the Legislature (now the Congress of California) declared Governor, and took the oath of office December 20, 1836. But again it was the North against the South, Los Angeles was jealous of the predonderance of influence held by Monterey. While the South agreed on the principles enunciated by the revolutionary movement, it did not approve of Alvarado and Monterey. It wanted the capital. Jose Sepulveda and Antonio Oso were appointed commissioners to represent Southern California in negotiations with Alvarado and Monterey. But the brilliant leader from the North took time by the forelock, and while the Southerners were "resoluting" the Montereyan was marching with soldiers and guns. It was Alvarado and Monterey, or fight. Like Napoleon who half a century before had climbed over the Alps and swooped down upon the Austrians in the valleys of Italy, the gallant young native Californian, now of the same age as the great Corsican when he dashed upon the bridge of Lodi, crossed over the Santa Lucia range, through Santa Barbara and San Buenaventura and took up position in the valley of San Fernando, north of Los Angeles sent forth his defi—and the Southerners submitted, unlike the Austrians without a fight. Back went Alvarado to Santa Barbara whither he assembled the California Congress, which august body gave its approval to all he had done—but expressed a willingness to be a part of Mexico provided the mother country acknewledged California as a Soverign Federal State, with rights to regulate its own internal affairs—thus setting an example for Home Rule. Alvarado and his followers believed in the doctrines of the United States, that in union there was strength. But Mexico was loth to recognize the demands, and Carlos Antonio Carrillo was appointed to succeed Alvarado as Governor. Again it was the South vs. the North. The two Carrillos, Bandini, Portilla and Ensign Macedonia Gonzales proceeded to organize a force to carry out the orders of the central government.

But Alvarado was neither to be threatened nor cajoled. Without delay he started a force south under Jose Castro (afterwards General) and himself followed with another body of men. Castro and Alvarado swooped down upon Carrillo's party near Santa Buenventura, and after more talking than fighting, the Carrillo forces ran away, although most of them soon thereafter joined Alvarado. Carrillo, receiving some recruits at Los Angeles, made a stand at Los Flores, near the Mission of San Juan Capistrano, but on the appearance of Alvarado the opposing "army" faded away. On returning to the capital Alvarado served notice upon his brethren of the south that they must behave themselves in future or some of them would be severely punished. So Carrillo hiked himself to Lower California. At this time an astute diplomat named Andrea Castillero (the same who discovered the New Almaden quicksilver mines) was commissioned to proceed to Mexico to adjust the differences between the central government and California, and Castillero succeeded so well that he brought back with him the first legal commission to Juan B. Alvarado as Governor of California, besides a commission to Mariano Vallejo as "Commandante Militar." The political differences being settled, the young Governor now devoted himself to work with marked avidity and proved himself a statesman as well as a soldier. In 1840 there were in the territory naturalized citizens (Americans, English ,etc.) as follows: Seventeen in San Francisco, thirty-one at San Jose, thirty at Monterey, thirty at Santa Barbara, twenty-three at Los Angeles seven at San Diégo. The remainder of Alvarado's administration was devoted to land matters, adjusting Mission affairs, etc. While Pico and young Arguello were born on California soil, Alvarado displayed far more brilliant attainments than any of the early Californians, and the Native Sons may well be proud of him. He had faults similar to those of James A. McDougall, the most brilliant United States Senator California has ever sent to Washington, excepting Stephen M. White, but Alvarado will always live in history to the credit of the Californians. The young Governor married in 1839 Martini, daughter of Francisco Maria Castro, whose grandfather came with Anza and was Sergeant at the presidio of San Francisco, and who brought her father across the deserts of Arizona and Colorado when the latter was but two years old. Francisco in the 30's obtained the grant of 17,000 acres known as the San Pablo, lying immediately north of Berkeley, on which the city of Richmond now stands. The Alvarado cottage may still be seen in the village of San Pablo.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

Mr. Roy W. Cloud, county superintendent of schools addressed the mothers of San Carlos last Friday afternoon in regard to the proposed plan of transferring all scholars above the fifth grade from the Belmont and San Carlos schools to the Redwood City Central school where they will have the advantage of the association with thirty or forty in the same grades and the incentive which such conduct gives; that of manual training, domestic science, drawing and music and other minor advantages which cannot possibly be provided by the San Carlos and Belmont schools for some time to come. Some of the parents have objected to the proposition for the reason that they did not believe their children would receive the same careful oversight during recess and noon on the playgrounds as is the case at San Carlos. After Mr. Cloud had thoroughly explained the scheme many of the mothers who were opposed to it now look upon it as the best thing for the children who have been promoted to the higher grades.

Mr. R. P. Hurlbut Jr., has addressed a communication to the board of school trustees asking for permission to use the assembly hall at the school house for the purpose of conducting a series of community dances that the young folks may have some sort of innocent and pleasing diversion without going out of town to find it. The matter will receive the attenion of he board at their next regular meeting, the first Tuesday night in February.

Local Chairman Cowgill went to San Lucas last Saturday to spend the night with one of his assistants and his old friend, Malcolm J. Hoon, S. P. agent at that point. Sunday morning Hoon and Cowgill wrove by automobile to Salinas, 54 miles, in one hour and thirty minutes in order to be present at a meeting of telegraphers. There was a large and enthusiastic bunch of telegraphers present, many of them coming from as far south as Guadalupe and from San Francisco on the north. A Mr. Merrill, who has been on the S. P. lines for about six years and who is located at Salinas, is also candidate for local chairman and delegate to the national convention as against Mr. Cowgill to succeed himself ,and hence the reason for calling the meeting at Salinas that the rank and file might have an opportunity to meet, see and hear the new aspirant state his platform. As this is a very critical time in the affairs of the organization many are opposed to swapping horses in the middle of the stream," and it is very probable that the telegraphers will care to risk their interests in the hands of raw and untried material.

Mr. C. Percy Buckland is here from Canada visiting Miss Muriel Clark, his childhood playmate, at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. P. Hurlbut, Sr. Mr. Buckland enlisted in the army at the outbreak of the war and up o he time that he was wounded so badly that he was forced to go to the hospital, where he remained until a few weeks ago when he was sufficiently recovered to return to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansen S. Peterson who have made their home in San Carlos for the past four years moved to their new home in Burlingame last Saturday. While it is our misfortune to lose this happy young couple as residents of our little city yet we are glad to be assured that they will often drop down to San Carlos to see and visit their many friends.

Mr. A. D. McLellan, proprietor of the Pacific Fence Construction company of San Francisco has taken another contract to build an additional section of fence for the Morse Seed company and is now receiving the material. This style of fence has proven very satisfactory in this part of the country being very substantial as well as neat in appearance and a barrier that no sort of stock can break down or get through.

Mr. C. B. Ward, for many years associated with Jno. E. Cowgill in his connection with the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, and who is now on a two weeks' leave of absence from his railroad work at San Jose, was a visitor in San Carlos last Tuesday.

Frank Quinn received his honorable discharge from the navy a few days ago and is now enjoying a visit with his mother and sisters before resuming his former work.

MIDWINTER UNMBER LOS ANGELES TIMES

The Los Angeles Times Midwinter Number has become a Southern California institution. It is the medium through which the people of that region annually tell their friends in other States and other countries how they are living, what progress they are making in business, and what forms of recreation and enjoyment are available to them.

The big subject of Southern California, its industrial, agricultural and horticultural development, and its activities in many other lines, has been handled this year with the same accuracy and faithfulness to detail that has characterized previous numbers issued by The Times.

One of the most attractive innovations in the number is the use of three processes of illustration. The color pages are not only beautifully artistic, but they faithfully portray typical Southern California views. The rotogravure pages are splendid examples of what can be accomplished with that process.

The number contains a vast amount of information. It tells in story and picture just the things that people who are in any way inerested in the Golden State want to know.

The estate comprises of cash amounting to $123.12 and three Spring Valley Water company's four per cent bonds valued at $2829.30, making a total of $2952.42.

Mr. Macondray who is the uncle and guardian of the deceased has also filed his final account showing that this amount is the actual value of the estate of the minor. Pringle and Robbins are the attorneys for petitioner.

PUBLIC WELFARE WORK

To those of our readers who may not be familiar with the work of the San Mateo County Public Health Service we offer a short statement of the activities of this body. It was organized for the purpose of bettering the health conditions of those in the county who, either through lack of knowledge or lack of funds were unable properly to care for their own health. The work was undertaken through funds raised by private subscriptions, later supplemented by county funds. Miss Hazel Wedgwood was engaged as Public Health nurse, in affiliation with the Red Cross Town and County nursing service. One medical and dental clinic has been established in Daly City which is open to patients every Tuesday morning. A second dental clinic has been opened in San Mateo which operates four mornings a week Space will not permit us to elaborate upon the splendid work done by the Public Health Service but we bespeak for it the hearty support of every resident of San Mateo county with the absolute conviction that this support will be well merited and given in a splendid cause. At some future date we will give you detailed reports of the work done.

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

A large crowd attended the sale of the buildings at Camp Fremont last Tuesday. There was at times lively bidding for the structures. The principal purchasers were the Dolan Wrecking company and Simon Brothers, also wreckers of San Francisco. Over $40,000 was received by the government as a result of the sale.

The grandstand, erected under the direction of Captain Maloney, on the Morrison athletic field, was bought by the Santa Clara University for $800. It probably cost the government $10,000. The Liberty Theatre was sold to the Dolan Wrecking company for $600. George Nunn bought the Major General Eli Helmick's home for $65. He is to remove it to his lot on the El Camino Real. Mr. Nunn prizes the building for its historic interest. For it was in it that the general planned his overseas campaign. The hostess house bought by the Town of Palo Alto to be used as a Community Center. The Jewish Welfare house was sold to Dr Morfew of San Francisco. She is going to move it to her property at Atherton and transform it into a fine residence. It was the most attractive building at the camp. It was erected just before the Armistice was signed. All the buildings will be removed at once. It is the intention to have the camp site cleared by March first.

Mr. and Mrs. Felton Elkins returned on Saturday from a week's visit to Santa Barbara and are at their home in San Mateo.

Mrs. John Billesback passed away at her home at University Heights early yesterday morning following a long illness. She was a native of Mayfield, aged 41 years. Mrs. Billesback was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Feliz. She is survived by her husband and several children. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon. Interment will be in Union cemetery, Redwodo.

Mrs. James Keeney and Miss Helen Keeney are occupying the Talbot Walker home at Menlo Park during Mrs. Walker's stay in Santa Barbara.

William Feeley has written to his parents from Coblenz, Germany. His parents had not heard from him in three months and naturally were worried. His letter was indeed welcome. Mr. Feeley was in five battles and went over the top several times He made a record as a sharp shooter. His letter is as follows: Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and enjoying the very best of health. Received four letters and papers and believe me I was delighted to get them. We are in the Town of Coblenz and I am doing guard duty and I guess before I leave here I will be able to talk a little German. This is a pretty nice place. It is located on the Rhine at the mouth of the Mosel river. I suppose you are expecting me to return to the States shortly. Well I hope I will for I sure would like to get back to dear old Menlo. I have seen all of Europe and am not too deeply impresed with it. No place like California I suppose Joseph Kelly and John O'Dea and the other boys are in the States now. Had a good Christmas and a better New Year. We had some snow on New Years. Here is a few stanzas of poetry composed by a poet of the Fourth Division:

THE GALLANT FOURTH

You can talk about your Rainbow,
Sunset and Keystone Division, too.
But let me have the pleasure to introduce the fighting Fourth to you.

You will find every state in the Union and every nation represented
And when it comes to scrapping the Fighting Fourth's a bear.

We were in the drive at Chezy Chauteau Thiery and down on the Vesle, too
And in the Bois de Argonne we cut our way right through.

And when the Kaiser heard of them he pulled his hair and cussed,
Though he sent up ten divisions to stop our gallant rush.

But his efforts they were useless, and his troubles were in vain
For Fighting Fourth was ready, and drove them back again.

Our infantry was fearless and kept them on the run.
And our gallant machine gun company picked off every hun.
And our brilliant artillery ,they sure did make things hum.

Our aerial forces sure were fine, and flew across the heinies line,
They brought us information, that came in mighty fine.

Then take our signal corps their job is not a cinch,
And you can always find them handy when needed in a pinch,
Our Red Cross boys were bringing wounded from the brush,
And our ambulances were busy always in a rush.

And let our fallen comrades' memory go in the Hall of Fame,
The Fighting Fourth is made of men who dare and do.
That's how we got our name

The gallant Fourth kept fighting and drove Bill from the throne,
And now the war is over
U. S. Home Sweet Home.
